Ag Hall of Distinction holds 2017 ceremony

Taking part in ceremonies honoring the 2017 inductees into the Louisiana Agriculture Hall of Distinction are, from left, Louisiana Radio Network President Jim Engster, David Graugnard, who accepted for the late James Graugnard Sr. of St. James, honoree Buck Vandersteen of Alexandria, honoree Mayther Ray Young of Wisner, Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry Mike Strain, D.V.M., and LSU Vice President for Agriculture Bill Richardson. The ceremonies were held on March 2 in Baton Rouge at L'Auberge Casino Hotel. Photo by Brian Crain.

Baton Rouge, La. – An influential forestry leader and two innovative farmers are the latest inductees into the Louisiana Agriculture Hall of Distinction, honoring those who make extraordinary contributions to Louisiana agribusiness.

The 2017 ceremonies, held on March 2 at L'Auberge Casino Hotel, recognized Buck Vandersteen of Alexandria, Mayther Ray Young of Wisner in Franklin Parish and the late James Graugnard Sr. of St. James.

Vandersteen has held many leadership roles in his career. In addition to heading the 4,000-member Louisiana Forestry Association for 34 years, he served as president of the National Council of Forestry Association Executives. He was instrumental in creating the Passage of the Forest Productivity Program, Sustainable Forestry Initiative, the Forest Stewardship Council and the American Tree Farm program, among others.

Young began his career at the age of 8, when he started working on the family farm. After earning an agriculture degree from Louisiana Tech and a master's in entomology from LSU, Young opened his own farm, which he operates with his son, Jesse. Young pioneered no-till technology now used on farms throughout the South. He also helped charter the Federal Land Bank of North Louisiana, serving as board chairman when the north and south land banks were merged into Louisiana Land Bank.

Graugnard was posthumously honored for his lifelong accomplishments in agriculture. After serving in World War II, Graugnard returned to the family farm that he and his three brothers eventually purchased from their father. James Graugnard was known for his willingness to help fellow farmers, even opening his own farm to LSU researchers so neighbors could improve their own operations. Graugnard also helped lead the Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation through a period of unparalleled growth and was instrumental in forming the Louisiana Farm Bureau Service Co.

The Hall of Distinction honors outstanding contributions to Louisiana agriculture in farming, ranching, forestry, aquaculture, education and agribusiness. The annual induction ceremony is presented by the Louisiana Radio Network in cooperation with the LSU AgCenter, the Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry, and the Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation. Monsanto serves as title sponsor and First South Farm Credit is the presenting sponsor.

“The Hall of Distinction is a significant way of honoring and thanking individuals in Louisiana’s agricultural community, which is a key component of the state’s economy and cultural heritage,” says Don Molino, Louisiana Radio Network farm director. “We acknowledge the contributions of inductees that have a major impact on agribusiness in our state and, in many cases, around the world.”

Founded in 1974, Louisiana Radio Network provides 63 radio stations throughout Louisiana and parts of Mississippi with news, sports and agri-news. LRN also publishes Tiger Rag, known as the “Bible of LSU Sports” since 1978, the new Tiger Rag Extra magazine, and presents the Louisiana Agriculture Hall of Distinction award.

USDA Designates Natural Disaster Areas

Baton Rouge, La. (March 3, 2017) – Nine parishes are eligible for disaster assistance as a result of a recent drought according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), said Agriculture and Forestry Commissioner Mike Strain, D.V.M.

The parishes, which are contiguous to primary natural disaster areas in Arkansas, Mississippi and Texas, include: Bossier, Caddo, Concordia, East Carroll, Madison, Morehouse, Tensas, Union and West Carroll.

Strain said farmers and ranchers located in these parishes are eligible for low-interest emergency loans from the Farm Service Agency (FSA) provided eligibility requirements are met.

Farmers in eligible areas have eight months from the disaster declaration date to apply for emergency loans to help cover losses.

The parishes listed were designated natural disaster areas on Feb. 23, 2017.

FSA has a variety of programs, in addition to the emergency loan program, to help eligible farmers recover from adversity.

For more information, farmers and ranchers may contact their local parish FSA office. Additional information is also available online at <http://disaster.fsa.usda.gov>.

Commissioner Strain spoke at the Leaders Against Litter event hosted by Keep Louisiana Beautiful today on the steps of the state capitol. Strain joined Lt. Governor Billy Nungesser and other state and local leaders to advocate for a cleaner, greener Louisiana. This morning, 28 clean-up events, organized by Keep Louisiana Beautiful affiliate organizations, were held throughout the state and followed up by a signing of the litter pledge – a public commitment to “Stand Up, Pick Up and Stand Up” for a litter-free Louisiana.
