LDAF Commissioner, Governor visit sugarcane farm

About 200 people joined Agriculture and Forestry Commissioner Mike Strain, D.V.M., and Governor John Bel Edwards at a recent farm meeting in Plaquemine, La. While the event was held at Al Landry's sugarcane farm, agriculture producers for different commodities as well as timber owners were represented.

"It means a lot for the commissioner and the governor to come out here and visit the local community," said Landry.

"What's happening in Washington today is we are actively working on trade negotiations. I think these tariffs will be temporary, but we need to get through them," said Strain. "We also need to make sure crop insurance stays funded."

Trade and tariffs, immigration and transportation were hot topics at the meeting.

"At the end of the day, we have to re-invest in our highway system. We have to protect our infrastructure," said Strain. "We have to make some hard decisions and explore everything available from the federal government," added Edwards.

While the topic of immigration also came up, sugarcane farmer Warren Harang said, "Without it, we cannot function." As Strain explained, the H2A, H2B and H2C workers are documented, part-time, seasonal workers who accept employment that many Americans do not want.

The discussion also focused on the importance of agriculture research in which Strain stressed the importance of having the state's research facilities funded.

Strain said he will use all of the information collected at these farm tours at the state and federal levels in support of the agriculture and forestry industries.

This most recent meeting was part of a series of agriculture meetings that started November 2017 in which Commissioner Strain invited the governor to hear firsthand any concerns and also field questions from our agriculture and forestry producers.

Louisiana Agriculture & Forestry Today

Celebrate National Farmers Market Week

August 5-11, 2018 is National Farmers Market Week.

"I love visiting local farmers markets and roadside stands," said Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry (LDAF) Commissioner Mike Strain, D.V.M. "That's where you find the freshest fruits, vegetables and other Louisiana grown products."

Strain adds it is also a great way to support the local economy and meet the people who are growing your food. National Farmers Market Week recognizes the vital role farmers and farmers markets have on the economy. In Louisiana, there are approximately 75 farmers markets and 100 roadside stands.

Remember, when you buy Louisiana produce you are supporting your farming neighbors while supporting your health with the freshest produce available," said Strain. "In most cases, crops get from the field to your family on the same day. Now that's fresh."

The Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry has again secured a grant from the USDA to participate in the Senior Farmers Market Nutrition Program (FMNP) allowing senior citizens to buy locally grown fresh fruits, vegetables, cut herbs and honey at farmers markets and roadside stands. This program helps to increase access and consumption of fresh fruits and vegetables by seniors, as well as supports local farming producers. Seniors who applied for the program this year have until November 30 to visit their local farmers market or roadside stand to utilize their vouchers.

Applications are still being accepted at this time. Strain encourages senior citizens 60 years and older who meet certain income requirements to contact their parish Council on Aging to participate. In New Orleans, seniors can contact Catholic Charities.

For a list of local farmers markets in your area, go to the LDAF website at www.ldaf.la.gov. For more information about the FMNP, go to the website or call 985-345-9483.

Download the new Horticulture app today

With our new mobile horticulture application, it's now simple to verify individuals claiming to be horticulture professionals. Did you know? Work such as plant bed preparation, bedding plant installation, landscape design, lawn irrigation system installation, tree trimming and fertilizer application all must be conducted by someone licensed through LDAF. Be sure an individual is licensed before you hire them.

The new mobile app is available for both Apple and Android users. You can verify a horticulture license, permit of a business or file a complaint. Download it at the iTunes and Google Play stores.

Fresh produce farmers, packers, distribution centers

The Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry is able to provide fresh produce farmers, packing facilities and distribution centers in Louisiana with basic Good Agriculture Practice/Good Handling Practices (GAP/GHP) audits, as well as, GAPs Harmonized audits (with or without the Global addendum). GAP audits are a voluntary for hire service that certifies a producer's efforts to provide safe, quality product free from contamination to the consumer. For more information or to schedule an audit, contact Audrey Carrier at our Hammond office at 985-543-4024 or email acarrier@ldaf.state.la.us.

CERTIFIED LOUISIANA

A LOUISIANA PRODUCT

Davey's Treasures Salsa

Meet Davey Woolridge, creator of Davey's Treasures Salsa.

The company is the result of a summer camp for young people with disabilities. Participants were tasked with turning an interest or passion into a business that they could then sell at a market.

The Baton Rouge native knew exactly what he wanted to sell – his grandmother's salsa. Davey enjoyed helping his grandmother make and sell her salsa at the Washington Parish Fair.

The salsa was a hit at the market but he wanted to continue this venture as a real business.

In 2016, with his family's help, Davey started working with the LSU AgCenter's Food Incubator and began slowly growing the business.

Davey's Treasures Salsa is now part of Ochsner's Eat Fit and Rouses Market Eat Right programs that encourage healthy eating.

Davey's Treasures Salsa is available at Rouse's Markets, Whole Foods and AssociatedGrocers stores.

For more information about the product, visit www.DaveysTreasures.com.

Davey's Dipping Sauce

Great for seafood, chicken tenders, pretzels, raw vegetables etc.

1/2 cup chunkiest part of Davey's Treasures Hot Salsa (drain the Salsa and press to take out most of the moisture)

1/2 cup favorite mayo

2 tsp. Horseradish

1 tsp. Worcestershire

Crystal Hot Sauce- to taste
