LDAF Hurricane Laura Response in CENLA

Employees from different divisions within the Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry worked tirelessly to remove debris from the grounds in preparation for welcoming visitors back to Indian Creek again.

By Veronica Mosgrove

Indian Creek Recreation Area re-opened to the public on September, 17, 2020 after Hurricane Laura ravaged the area toppling trees and blocking roads.

For Indian Creek employee Cathy Arnold, stepping on the grounds of the popular recreation area following the storm was upsetting for her.

"I was very emotional when I saw the damage. You get to know a lot of the people who camp here and you miss seeing them," said Arnold.

At the time, Arnold did not know when the recreation site would reopen. All she saw was a lot of work that needed to be done.

"We're a self-sustaining park," said Park Manager Andrew Stewart. "We want to be open for the customers." That is why it was imperative to get the site cleaned up and ready for business.

"It's been a unique year. We were closed for about two months for the Covid-19 pandemic. Then the storm blew through. It's unbelievable we were closed twice in one year. You don't normally see that," said Arnold.

The devastation mostly impacted trees and powerlines. "When we surveyed the damage, the silver lining was that no buildings or structures were destroyed. Even our beautiful playground for the kids, called Fort Martin, was fully intact," added Stewart.

Within a week and a half after the storm, electricity was restored to the campground. Louisiana

Department of Agriculture and Forestry crews worked tirelessly to remove debris from the grounds in preparation for visitors.

"We received hundreds of messages from our campers. You develop a relationship with these customers. They sometimes invite you to eat after work," said Arnold.

With Indian Creek officially open for business again, look for special events coming your way such as the annual Howl-o-ween event with trick-or-treating, decorating contests, a pet parade and other fun family activities!

Also, a new fishing pier and 35 new recreational vehicle campsites are in the process of being added.

Indian Creek Recreation Area, located in Woodworth, La., offers primitive camping, RV sites with water and electricity, beaches, fishing in Indian Creek Lake and a children's playground. Other amenities include bathrooms, laundry facilities, handicap parking, boat launch, canoe rentals, Wi-Fi (in RV area) and a covered pavilion which is available for rent. Indian Creek is managed by the LDAF.

In February, Indian Creek was the recipient of the Campground/RV Park of the Year award by the Louisiana Travel Association (LTA).

CATTLE

Attention: Bull sellers and buyers. All non-virgin bulls and bulls older than 24 months for sale in Louisiana must have a current negative trichomoniasis test from an accredited veterinarian before they may be sold. Virgin bulls must have a breeder's certification of virgin status signed by the breeder, the breeder's agent or an accredited veterinarian. For more information, contact the LDAF Animal Health Services and Food Safety at 225-925-3980 or visit the website at www.ldaf.state.la.us.

REMINDER: Have all of your heifer calves between four and 12 months of age vaccinated against brucellosis. For information contact your local veterinarian, LDAF animal health personnel, your parish Cattlemen's Association or parish Farm Bureau.

EDUCATION & WORKSHOPS

Louisiana Farm to School Conference will be held entirely online, free of cost.

The theme for the 2020 conference will be virtual and will occur in 2-hour sessions from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. on Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, 7 and 8. The event will emphasize the three main components of farm to school — education, school gardens and local food procurement.

Topics will include farm to school during COVID-19, local success stories, garden sustainability, farm to school education, Louisiana food heritage and discovering your role in the food system. Anyone interested in local food systems, Louisiana agriculture, education, school gardens or healthful school meals is encouraged to register for the conference.

This year's conference will be free to all attendees. But space is limited, and registration is required. Register online at <https://bit.ly/2FJaaUk>. Sessions will also be recorded and available for viewing after the conference.

More information is available online at www.lsuagcenter.com/louisianafarmtoschool or by contacting the Louisiana Farm to School team at louisianafarmtoschool@agcenter.lsu.edu.

Over in Alexandria, the mega-shelter located at the Dean Lee Research and Extension Center on Tom Bowman Dr., was the staging area for Hurricane Laura evacuees as they transitioned into temporary housing at hotels. At the time of this writing, a little more than 100 pets had come through the shelter with their owners.

"This is Diamond Girl," said Lake Charles evacuee Patricia Hamilton. "She is so content."

For Hamilton, it was important for her to be able take her four year old pup with her when she escaped the storm. "She's not a pet to me. She is my companion."

Hamilton said she knows her home is "demolished" but was grateful to land in a secure place. "I feel safe here with these folks and I can visit her (Diamond Girl). That makes me feel good."

"We are here to serve," said Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry veterinarian Daniel Myrick, D.V.M. "Every disaster is different and you can plan, but it's never the same."

This time, because of the pandemic and the need for social distancing, most evacuees spent little time at the shelter. They were registered for assistance and then moved. In previous disasters, thousands of evacuees were housed at the shelter with hundreds of pets located nearby. For those in need of a place to stay, they are just grateful to be with their four-legged family members.

"Lady is my whole family," said Lake Charles evacuee Bruce Davis. "As long as I am with her, I'm fine. If I couldn't bring her, I wouldn't leave."

By law, the LDAF is designated by the Louisiana Homeland Security and Emergency Assistance and Disaster Act to assist in sheltering household pets for citizens in need of state assistance during disasters.
