Clegg's latest cookbook features arthritis-fighting recipes

By Veronica Mosgrove

With 14 cookbooks to her credit, the newest culinary delight by Baton Rouge, Louisiana's Holly Clegg could possibly be her most challenging endeavour. "When you think of diabetes and cancer, there is a definite food correlation. But when you think of arthritis, you don't necessarily think of how food plays a part," says Clegg.

Clegg says an arthritis cookbook wasn't on her radar until Karen Kennedy from the Arthritis Association of Louisiana contacted her about writing a cookbook for people who suffer from the disease. "I had to do a lot of research. While nothing cures arthritis, there are things you can do to alleviate some of the symptoms."

What resulted was Eating Well to Fight Arthritis. Clegg says while there's nothing else like it out there, one thing she did not want to do was make it a medical book. "My goal – always – is to appeal to the average, busy person who wants to cook affordable recipes."

The book includes chapters which focus on "no fuss foods". Clegg says, "When your joints are giving you problems, I share simple recipes that need very little preparation such as chopping and cutting. Sometimes it's not the food you eat, but how you prepare it."

Clegg, who has made the national circuit promoting her cookbooks, is committed to a healthy lifestyle and she says she is inspired to make a difference especially when it comes to something that touches so many lives.

According to the Arthritis Foundation and the Centers for Disease Control, 1.7 million people in Louisiana have some form of arthritis. That's one out of three people. Forty-nine percent are under the age of 55. "We want to improve the quality of life for the 20,000 people we serve in the state," says Kennedy, whose mother had arthritis. Cooking became a challenge for her loved one. "My mother loved to cook. When the pain in her hands became crippling, she stopped cooking. It was devastating to her."

Kennedy says she came up with the idea for an arthritis cookbook three years ago when she learned that a diet with antioxidants and omega-3 reduces inflammation which in turn reduces pain.

Clegg says the beauty of her book is that although it is arthritis specific, you don't have to have the disease to enjoy cooking from it. "It's not about singling people out. You can remove all the diseases from all of my trim and terrific recipes and prepare meals quickly, literally under 30 minutes. I like practical cookbooks where you can buy everything you need at one grocery store and eat affordably."

Kennedy says with May being National Arthritis Awareness Month, the launch of Clegg's book is timely. "Not only are there great recipes, but Holly (Clegg) has designed the cookbook around helpful hints on "joint friendly" ways to fix a meal. "I'm so thrilled. Holly has a good mix in the book. She includes some recipes for those with diabetes or those who need gluten free. She's also added recipes that are easy to freeze which in the long run, saves a step for people who sometimes can't physically prepare a meal."

Part of the proceeds from the sale of the cookbook will go to the Arthritis Association of Louisiana to support educational training to patients and caregivers. To order Eating Well to Fight Arthritis, call 225-761-8230 or go to www.aaola.org. You will also be able to find the book on Amazon.com. To learn more about Clegg, visit her website at www.hollyclegg.com.

Clegg, who is an award winning chef and cookbook author, has other cookbooks on chronic diseases as part of her "Eating Well" series including cancer and diabetes. She is the spokesperson for the Louisiana Sweet Potato Commission and a regular cooking guest on "This Week in Louisiana Agriculture."

Louisiana Agriculture & Forestry Today

ASK BEFORE YOU EAT

I recently read an article in the Delta Farm Press about imported crawfish and catfish. When the Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry, along with the Crawfish Board, came up with the "Ask Before You Eat" campaign, it was meant to first, support your local farmers and producers and second, ensure that the product you are purchasing and consuming is both safe to eat and absolutely delicious.

We live in a state where our produce and seafood products are markedly desired in other parts of the world. Here we have it at our fingertips. Why would we settle for less? While some people are enticed by the lower prices of imported seafood, better growing conditions here in Louisiana result in a difference that you can taste. Better flavor, better texture. Ultimately, it's your decision.

One thing is for sure, restaurants are required by law to disclose to consumers the origin of the seafood they serve. Check it out! I bet you'll be able to taste the difference.

So remember, I request that you "Ask Before You Eat." It should be top of mind when you are dining at a restaurant or buying seafood at the local grocery store. It's good for you and it's good for our farmers and fishermen.

Your taste buds deserve it.

COOKERY

Recipes from Holly Clegg's cookbook, Eating Well to Fight Arthritis

Lemon Herb Shrimp

Makes 6-8 servings

1/2 cup olive oil	1/4 cup lemon juice
2 teaspoons dried oregano leaves	Salt and pepper
2 teaspoons dried thyme leaves	2 pounds peeled medium shrimp
1/2 cup pre-chopped green onion

1. Combine all ingredients except shrimp in resealable plastic bag. Add shrimp, tossing to coat. Refrigerate one hour, time permitting.
2. Preheat oven 450 degrees. Place shrimp and marinade on foil lined baking pan. Bake 10 minutes (depending on shrimp size) or until shrimp are done and marinade bubbling. Serve shrimp with sauce.

Nutritional information per serving:

Calories 206, Calories from Fat 65%, Fat (g) 15, Saturated Fat (g) 2, Cholesterol (mg) 143, Sodium (mg) 257, Carbohydrates (g) 3, Dietary Fiber (g) 1, Total Sugars (g) 0, Protein (g) 16, Dietary Exchanges: 2 lean meat, 2 fat.

Terrific Tip: Look in the produce section of the grocery for containers of pre-chopped green onion.

Berry Parfait

16 (1/2-cup) servings

2/3 cup spreadable seedless sugar free raspberry jam	1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/4 cup orange liqueur or orange juice, depending on taste	1 (8-ounce) container free fat free whipped topping, thawed
6 ounces reduced fat cream cheese	2 (3-ounce) pkgs. ladyfingers, split in half (24) or angel food cake cut into pieces
1/4 cup sugar	1/2 cup raspberries
1 teaspoon vanilla extract	1 1/2 cups strawberries, stemmed & sliced

1. In small bowl, mix together preserves and orange juice.
2. In mixing bowl, cream together cream cheese, sugar, and vanilla until light. Mix in whipped topping reserving, 1/2 cup for topping.
3. Line bottom of an oblong small dish with split ladyfingers. Layer with preserves mixture, cream cheese layer, and top with strawberries. Repeat layers with remaining ladyfingers, preserves and cream cheese layer.
4. Carefully top with thin layer of remaining whipped topping. Top with remaining strawberries. Cover, refrigerate several hours or overnight.

Tip: Use raspberries so you don't have to even cut the strawberries. This recipe works well in individual servings.

Nutrition Nugget: You will hardly believe this luscious treat is diabetic-friendly so there is always room for dessert!

Chicken, Red Pepper, Spinach & White Bean Pizza

Makes 8 (1-slice) servings

1 (12-inch) thin pizza crust	2 cups chopped baby spinach
1 tablespoon olive oil	1 teaspoon dried oregano leaves
1 medium red bell pepper, cored and thinly sliced	1 cup chopped cooked chicken breast
1/2 cup chopped red onion	1/2 cup white navy beans, drained and rinsed
1 teaspoon minced garlic	1 cup shredded part-skim mozzarella cheese

1. Preheat oven 425°F. Coat crust with oil.
2. In large nonstick skillet coated with nonstick cooking spray, cook red pepper and onion about 5 minutes or until crisp tender. Add garlic, spinach and oregano, stirring only until spinach is wilted.
3. Evenly spoon spinach mixture over crust and top with remaining ingredients. Bake 8-10 minutes, or until cheese is melted and crust is done.

Terrific Tip: Freeze leftover pizza slices and reheat for a make-ahead meal another day. I just took slices out of the freezer and either I'm hungry or forgot how good this pizza was.

Watermelon and Tomato Salad

Makes 10 (1/2-cup) servings

4 cups scooped out watermelon balls or chunks	1 tablespoon olive oil
1/2 cup chopped red onion	2 tablespoons balsamic vinegar
1 pint cherry tomatoes, halved	Salt to taste
2 tablespoons fresh chopped basil

1. In bowl, combine watermelon, onion, tomatoes and basil. Whisk together oil and vinegar, toss with salad. Season to taste. Refrigerate until serving.

LDAF hosts Southern Plant Board meeting

Ricky Becnel, center, said the nursery has six greenhouses on the property. To keep the trees green water is pumped from the Mississippi River, their main water source, then treated with a liquid feed.

The Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry (LDAF) hosted the 2013 Southern Plant Board (SPB) Conference April 21-24 in New Orleans. The SPB is a regional arm of the National Plant Board, an organization of plant pest regulatory agencies representing each state and Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

The meeting provides an information-sharing outlet for the plant pest regulatory agencies to discuss issues affecting the southern states.

One of the highlights of the four-day meeting was a tour and luncheon at the Woodland Plantation in Port Sulphur, La. The luncheon was followed by a trip to Belle Chasse in Plaquemines Parish to tour Saxon, Becnel and Sons Citrus Nursery.

The group was greeted by Plaquemines Parish President Billy

Nungesser, owner Ricky Becnel and his wife, Stephanie, who treated the visitors to refreshments featuring unique local specialties like fresh orange cake, freshly squeezed mandarin orange juice and an orange slush.

Ricky Becnel guided the tour of the 163-year-old nursery. Becnel said the operation sits on about 20 acres of land along the Mississippi River and houses 400,000 trees when fully loaded. The nursery grows primarily citrus trees including kumquat, satsuma, orange, lemon, lime and fig.
