West Feliciana Parish couple living the dream

By Veronica Mosgrove

Josh and Tara Morris are first generation farmers. What started out as a dream for these former LSU animal science students has turned into a booming grass-fed beef business.

“When he was younger, Josh helped his grandfather with his hobby cattle in West Feliciana Parish. Josh dreamed of having a ranch one day and I dreamed of having a farm,” said Tara. “Even though I did not grow up on a farm, my first job was at a plant farm and nursery,” she added.

Following graduation from LSU’s Animal Science Department, Josh and Tara married and moved to Marble Falls, Texas where they worked at a Christian camp. Josh was the equestrian director and took care of approximately 30 horses that were used as part of their ministry.

As their desire to have a family grew, they decided to return to Louisiana in 2009 to be near family.

“While Josh worked at BREC’s Farr Park, he also did some side work for a friend who had cattle and land. You can dream all day about farming, but you cannot do it without land,” said Tara.

Call it divine intervention or maybe even luck, but Josh’s friend asked him if he had ever considered owning a few cattle.

The friend allowed them to use approximately 50 acres to get started.

“We bought our first cows before we even had the fences repaired,” said Josh.

The Morris’ bought whatever they could afford that first year – a total of 16 bred cows. “At the time, we had these old mama cows and then we bought a cheap bull and let them breed,” said Tara.

That’s when their farm called Three Twelve Beef was established. “In naming our business, we realized several of our favorite Bible verses were found in chapter three verse 12 of different books of the Bible,” said Tara. “For example, Philippians 3:12 discusses not being perfect yet being forgiven; and, Colossians 3:12 discusses compassion and kindness and who we can be as people.”

They began with the intention of being a cow/calf operation. Then, Tara said she started researching the grass fed market. Three Twelve Beef offers both 100% grass fed and pasture raised. By 2018, they began selling their beef. “We sold our first beef at the Farmers Market in St. Francisville, La. At first, people were skeptical because here we were selling beef out of the back of our car,” said Tara.

Once people started trying the meat, it took off. We started getting phone calls and started supplying our local grocery stores with grass

Federal Legislation Requested to Assist Ag Producers

Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry (LDAF) Commissioner Mike Strain, D.V.M. is requesting changes to federal legislation necessary to provide assistance to agricultural producers facing devastating losses during the extreme weather event which occurred Feb. 11-17, 2021.

In letters to U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Secretary Tom Vilsack and the Louisiana congressional delegation, Strain explained that particularly for those crops which cannot be insured, there is limited assistance for those non-insured losses.

“What people don’t realize is that crop insurance, which is regulated by the USDA, is insufficient, particularly in catastrophic events,” said Strain.

“Many of our producers were hit by multiple hurricanes last year and now their crops have been wiped out by the ice storm. Even with the insurance they may have, it is not enough to help make them even close to being whole again,” added Strain.

BLACKENED SHRIMP ALFREDO

Submitted by A Cajun Life, LLC

Ingredients:

Pasta:

10 ounces of fettuccini pasta

Shrimp:

1½ - 2 pounds of extra-large shrimp, peeled and deveined
2 tablespoons A CAJUN LIFE® All Purpose Cajun seasoning
2 teaspoons A CAJUN LIFE® Blackening Rub
½ teaspoon sea salt
2 tablespoons butter

Alfredo Sauce:

8 tablespoons butter
2 cloves of garlic, minced
2 cups of heavy cream
½ cup whole milk
½ teaspoon sea salt
½ teaspoon coarse black pepper
¾ - 1 cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese
parsley for garnish

Instructions:

Pasta:

In a large pot of boiling salted water, cook pasta according to package instructions and drain

Shrimp:

Toss the shrimp with the seasonings and melt 2 tablespoons of butter in a large cast iron skillet over medium-high heat. Add the shrimp in a single layer and cook for 3-4 minutes per side. Cook in multiple batches if necessary but do not crowd the pan as this will cause the shrimp to steam. Transfer cooked shrimp to a plate and set aside

Alfredo Sauce:

Melt butter in medium saucepan over medium heat. Add the garlic and cook for 2 minutes until it becomes fragrant, making sure not to burn the garlic. Add the cream, milk, salt, and pepper bringing it to a low boil. Reduce the heat to medium-low, and simmer for 8-10 minutes. Turn off the burner and add the cheese, stirring until cheese is melted and incorporated

Assembly:

Add pasta to sauce, tossing to combine with tongs. Serve pasta warm, garnish with shrimp, parsley, and parmesan cheese if desired

CRAWFISH ETOUFFEE

Submitted by Panola Pepper

Ingredients:

- 2 pounds of crawfish tails, peeled
- 2 sticks of butter
- 2 large onions
- 1 clove of garlic
- 3 green onions, chopped
- ½ cup bell pepper
- ½ cup celery
- 2 tablespoons flour
- ½ bunch of parsley
- 1 cup chicken/vegetable/seafood broth
- 1 8 ounce can of tomato sauce
- ½ can of cream of mushroom soup
- 3 tablespoons Panola Gourmet Pepper Sauce
- 1 tablespoon fresh thyme

Instructions:

Sauté onions, garlic, green onions, bell pepper, and celery in butter over medium heat. Add flour and continue to simmer until browned. Add the broth and cream of mushroom soup, and stir until all are combined. Add tomato sauce, Panola Gourmet Pepper Sauce, and thyme. (I usually add a tablespoon of all-purpose seasoning as well). Once everything is well incorporated, add the clean crawfish tails. Cook on low heat for about 10 minutes to let all the flavors incorporate into the sauce. Top with green onions and parsley. Serve over Panola Popcorn Rice.

fed beef. "What they liked was that the meat was local, they liked the flavor and the leanness of the beef," added Tara.

During the labeling process, the Morris' started looking into the Certified Louisiana program through the Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry. "We realized that buying local was a really big deal - people want to know where their food comes from. From the beginning, we took the necessary steps to become Certified Louisiana members. It has helped our reputation because people know we went through the proper channels to become certified. It also helped us to be on the list of Certified Louisiana producers," added Tara.

Today, the Morris' lease nearly 300 acres of land and own 75 mama cows. In 2020, as a result of the Covid-19 pandemic, Tara said they really got busy. "We are now attending two Farmers Markets on Saturday's and are delivering beef to five parishes weekly.

Tara said they love being at market because it allows them to educate and get feedback from their customers. "They love that we are local and we are super transparent," said Tara. "We know exactly which steer the meat came from that week and the meat is rarely more than two weeks since it was on the hoof."

When the Covid-19 pandemic struck, remarkably, that did not slow things for the Morris'. "Once Covid hit, and there was the so-called meat shortage, the demand was higher and we had to increase our frequency of butchering and source more cattle from neighboring farms to keep up," said Josh.

They worked with their neighboring farmers to distribute to those who during the Covid shutdowns did not feel comfortable leaving their homes to shop for groceries.

"We started making deliveries during the pandemic and added the "protein box" which included

Louisiana produced chicken, eggs and goat milk from our neighbors," said Tara. Farmers Markets were shut down so we sold our meat and other goods that way," added Tara.

Josh is also a pastor at the Cowboy Church in Zachary and still does horseshoeing on a part-time basis. Tara is also a professional photographer but has cut back to make time for the beef business and for homeschooling their 10-year-old daughter and nine-year-old son. Both kids help on the farm and learn "life skills".

Three Twelve Beef can be ordered online at Louisianabeef.com. It can also be found at these locations: Zachary and Watson Farmers Markets, Audubon Market in St. Francisville, La., Old Paths Natural Market in Central, La., and the New Orleans Food Co-op.

"Our goal is to sustainably produce the highest quality of locally grass fed beef in our area and maintain the trust of our customers and farm regeneratively," added Tara.

More Dates Set Unwanted Pesticide Pick-Up

Baton Rouge, La. (March 3, 2021) – Two more unwanted pesticide pick-up events have been scheduled by the Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry (LDAF). The purpose is to collect unwanted pesticides from agricultural producers, pesticide applicators or homeowners who need assistance disposing of them properly.

The next Unwanted Pesticide Pick-Up Program event is set for March 30, 2021 from 7 a.m. until 1 p.m. at Old 3 Leagues Gin located at 2538 Hwy. 1, Natchitoches, La. 71457. The second event is scheduled for April 1, 2021 at Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry located at 754 Hwy. 80 East, Monroe, La. 71203.

Eligible items include but are not limited to partially full containers of pesticides and pesticide products that are cancelled or expired.

The program will be conducted at various locations in the state on an annual basis. There is no cost to the farmer, and it is completely anonymous for those who wish to participate.

"These are the fourth and fifth pesticide pick-up events that will be held since we started the program in 2019. This is an important service we provide to those who need to get rid of unwanted pesticide or agricultural products. As always, we work to ensure that the environment and the health of our citizens are protected by allowing an opportunity to properly dispose of these products," said

Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry Mike Strain, D.V.M.

All pesticides will be accepted. Containers will be supplied for transportation to the collection site if old containers are damaged. Inventory sheets, which can be obtained from your local LSU AgCenter office, are recommended to assist in documenting the pesticides being disposed.

Currently in Louisiana, an individual wishing to dispose of pesticide products must contact a licensed contractor for disposal, which results in a costly fee based on pounds of product(s) submitted for disposal. The LDAF program will not require a fee for the disposal of unwanted pesticides. The cost of the program will be funded through fees associated with pesticide manufacturers' product registrations in Louisiana. All pesticides offered for sale in Louisiana must be registered annually with the LDAF.

The LDAF has retained a licensed contractor for the program. This contractor will assume all responsibility for pesticide products delivered to the designated locations and for disposal.

Dates and locations are scheduled for this program after the LDAF and LSU AgCenter determine which location will best serve the public.

For more information, call LDAF's Kevin Wofford at 318-345-7595 or your local LSU AgCenter office.
