OL' MEL'S FARM

By Veronica Mosgrove

Melanie Moore and her husband, Rick, have lived on 8.5 acres in rural Deville, La. for about 15 years. But for Melanie, something was missing.

"I wanted some pet cows for our grandchildren," said Moore. After a little research, Moore came across the seriously cute Scottish Highland – a medium sized cow that is the oldest registered breed in the world. Moore knew she wanted a very docile breed of cow for the kids to pet and feed.

"I just fell in love with them!" said Moore. "I started with two females and as I put photos on Facebook, people started reaching out and asking if they could bring their kids over for a visit," she said.

This began at the start of the Covid-19 pandemic. Moore, who is a nurse by profession, said people were desperate for outdoor activities and this seemed to be the answer.

Once they fenced off the property, the herd grew. Currently, they have five highlands and one British White bull.

"I just love their long hair and horns," said Moore.

From there, followers of Moore's social media page offered her two miniature horses that needed a good home. Then she got some chickens, Holland Lop bunnies, sheep and goats. Some of the animals are rescues. The many ducks and geese were already residents when they bought the property.

"Our petting farm just took off. Right now, there is no set fee for visits although tips are welcome. Visits to the farm are by appointment only. We also offer petting farm parties in which we do charge a flat rate of $250 for two hours." With that, the kids can ride the miniature horses, pet and feed the animals. There's also a party room available on the property.

"One little girl told me, 'This is my dream birthday!' I just thought that was so cute."

Moore said her favorite thing is seeing kids happy and excited. Many of the kids have never experienced being around farm animals.

These days, Moore also invites Farmers Market vendors to her property the first Friday of every month. She is also planning a "Farm Day" for Halloween weekend October 30 and 31, 2021. There will be minimal cost for parking.

Moore allows family members to name her cows – Elsa, Fiona, Kate, Moses, Samson and Scarlet. The goats are named after country and western singers such as Hank (Williams), Reba (McEntire), Shania (Twain) and Waylon (Jennings).

Moore also breeds and sells her cows.

If you would like to meet Moore's "family", contact her at (318) 794-9533 or olmelsfarm@gmail.com. You can also follow her on social media: Ol' Mel's Farm on Facebook or olmelsfarm on Instagram. Even Scruffy the Rooster has his own social media pages. Follow him on Facebook and Instagram at whereisscruffy.

LOUISIANA AGRICULTURE & FORESTRY TODAY

Prepare for termite season

Baton Rouge, La. (May 10, 2021) – While termites are active year round, most species of subterranean termites tend to swarm in the spring and summer months here in Louisiana. That is why Louisiana Agriculture and Forestry (LDAF) Commissioner Mike Strain, D.V.M., is reminding property owners to remain vigilant and protect their properties.

“We have a wet climate especially this time of year and termite colonies are constantly looking for new food sources. Now is the time to take proactive measures to prevent termites from destroying your investments,” added Strain.

Strain offers these tips to help protect properties:

Fix any leaks in the roof, pipes and outside faucets on your home.

Turn off outside lights at night or use yellow bulbs to avoid attracting swarming termites.

Repair rotting wood on fascia, soffit, and exterior wood surfaces.

Pick up any wood lying on the ground under and around your home.

Store firewood away from your home.

Clean the gutters on your home and repair sections that may be damaged.

Trim tree limbs and vines that may be growing on your home.

Do not allow water to pool next to the slab or under your home. Drain the water away.

Most importantly, use only licensed and certified pest control professionals for termite treatments.

Between professional inspections, here is what property owners should look for: mud tubes on slabs, piers or walls and pinholes in wallboards, softness in flooring or blisters in paint or wallpaper.

Consumers can contact the LDAF at 225-925-4578 to find out which companies are certified and licensed. Treatments and annual inspections by a licensed, insured and bonded pest control company are a good termite preventative.

Put the shredded pork into a large skillet and add enough liquid from the slow cooker to cover. Cook over high heat. Let all the liquid evaporate and the pork will start to cook and get crispy. After it has evaporated and cooked, mix the pork around with a pair of tongs and let cook for 2 more minutes. Then turn off the heat, cover, and let rest for 10 minutes before serving.

Infrastructure survey supporting broadband

Baton Rouge, La. (May 10, 2021) – In an effort to improve broadband coverage in rural areas, Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry Commissioner Mike Strain, D.V.M., is urging people to fill out a quick survey.

“The Delta Regional Authority (DRA) is launching the Delta Broadband Mapping Project. It is a year-long discovery process in which to determine broadband accessibility throughout an eight-state region,” said Strain.

The information gathered will help create a map to determine which communities are in need of grants and other resources to improve broadband in their communities.

“Infrastructure and broadband challenges are ongoing problems in rural communities.

Improving technology in rural communities will also improve access to critical services such as healthcare, distance learning and working remotely,” added Strain.

The DRA was established in 2000 by Congress to invest federal appropriations into the Delta communities. The goal is to create jobs and enhance economic development in those areas. Besides Louisiana, the DRA states include: Alabama, Arkansas, Illinois, Kentucky, Mississippi, Missouri and Tennessee. The survey can be accessed here:

<https://dra.gov/research/broadband-mapping/#speedtest>.

Strain has been instrumental in working at both the state and federal levels on improving technology and connectivity in Louisiana’s rural communities.

Master Gardeners set to discuss native flowering shrubs, soil, fertilizer basics at Zachary Branch Library

The East Baton Rouge Master Gardener Association will present talks on native flowering shrubs and soil enrichment Thursday, June 17, at the Zachary Regional Branch Library.

The talks, scheduled for 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., are free and open to the public. Registration is not required, but seating is limited.

The library is located at 1900 Church St. in Zachary.

Louisiana Master Gardener Bob Dillemoth will discuss a variety of native shrubs notable for the beauty of their blooms. The shrubs described in Dillemoth’s presentation offer not only seasonal interest and diversity but provide habitat for birds and wildlife.

The second presentation, “Native and Commercial Soils, Fertilizer Basics and Other Additive Options,” will explain how various types of soil differ in composition and use. Louisiana Master Gardener Kerry Hawkins will also discuss the importance of soil sampling and how to interpret soil analysis reports. The presentation will include information on commonly used fertilizers as well as compost and other natural additives.

The series will go on hiatus after the Zachary program and resume Sept. 2, with talks on Louisiana Super Plants and growing orchids without a greenhouse at the Central Branch Library.

For additional information on the 2021 East Baton Rouge Master Gardener Association Library Series or the association’s other outreach activities, visit the East Baton Rouge Master Gardener Association website at ebrmg.com.
